

We have enjoyed almost a full year without frequent telephone marketing calls. In the past many of those callers were impolite when you indicated you were not interested. Calls frequently interrupted our activities. Those organizations and firms we want to do business are either contacted by us, or we receive postal or e-mailings. Those do not interrupt our activities. Please do not reduce the level of comfort given by the current Indiana law.